March Newsletter

Happy Birthday
Dr. Seuss!
Thank you for teaching us the importance of reading and following our hearts!

Hello KCF parents!

Can you believe it's already March? Where did the winter go? We've barely seen the snow touch the ground and the temperatures have been unseasonal! Anyone experiencing allergies yet? The plants and flowers seem to be releasing pollen earlier than usual! Aside from the nuisance of allergies, it's probably safe to say that no one is upset about the sunshine and warmer weather! C'mon spring!!! As we transition to the next season, we are excited to see our little learners grow and develop stronger skills and abilities. The daily curriculum lessons and practices of fine motor skills in the fall semester will become more fine tuned in the spring semester and by the time you know it, our kiddos will be ready for the summer and then the next school year! There are so many fun and exciting themes and events to look forward to this spring, so please be on the look out for informational posters on our school's parent board, Facebook page, and website!

Happy
St. Patrick's Day!

MARCH 17th Wear Green!

Curriculum Orientation
Thursday, April 27th @ 5:30PM

Please join our bi-annual Curriculum Orientation to learn about our school's program, curriculum development, and how we implement fun, creative, and educational lessons and activities to grow strong little learners! We especially welcome our new KCF parents to meet Ms. Julie, our Education Coordinator, who is passionate about early education and igniting school community!
